

WELCOME TO DENVER!

As luck would have it – you’re coming to a great city. Denver is a wonderful mixture of western hospitality, west coast sophistication, east coast culture and mid west values. It’s a sports town with a major league team in every sport. Plus, we have more days of sunshine than Miami!

We are looking forward to assisting you in finding your new home, neighborhood and lifestyle in Denver. Fuller Towne & Country Properties brokers are the best in the business and we are backed by a company that is dedicated to uncompromising customer service.

Please feel free to call us with any questions or concerns. We are committed to provide you with information, counsel and encouragement!

Here’s how we will help:

On your initial trip to Denver, if you wish, we will take you on an overview tour of the city to fully acquaint you with schools, places of worship, shopping, employment centers, cultural attractions, etc.

If you need child care or hotel accommodations while you are here we will help make arrangements.

We know the market! As in most cities, a distance of one block can make a major difference in home values and lifestyles. We will first spend time with you to determine what is critical to your new home search. You will be shown homes in areas that match those criteria.

We will provide important information you need, such as real estate taxes, utility costs, values and specific prices and set up tours of schools to help make your relocation and home purchase decision.

When you need vendors for your home purchase, rental or fix-up, we can provide the names of several recommended vendors who will do a good job for you.

Once you’ve found the right home and are ready to make an offer, we will prepare the contract according to your directives, explain real estate procedures common to the Denver market and deliver it to the Seller’s Broker for consideration.

After the offer has been accepted by the Seller, we will help you arrange for a qualified home inspector to inspect the property and will guide you through the entire contract process in order to meet deadline requirements and conditions.

As real estate professionals, we will use care and skill in performing my duties and promise to maintain the highest degree of honesty and professionalism throughout the transaction

The details of your home purchase transaction or rental will be taken care of allowing you to focus on the move and your new job. We will stay in touch with you throughout the transaction and keep you informed until the day you are fully settled into your new home. Our service doesn’t stop at the closing!
